edge of the laws of mental action, and (3) knowledge of those methods of imparting instruction and of moving the will, which are in most complete harmony with the laws of mental action; this last knowledge may be either theoretical or practical. With the successful teacher it is both.

In this school the student receives his knowledge of subject matter in his daily study and recitations; he acquires an elementary knowledge of the laws of mental action by the study of Psychology. In order to supply him with a theoretical knowledge of the best methods of imparting instruction and of moving the will, we give regular instruction in Methods and School Economy, and History of Education. Finally, to furnish him, as far as possible, with the needed practical skill, we introduce the senior to the work of actual teaching in the Model School.

Department of Pedagogy.

PSYCHOLOGY.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the fall term (14 weeks), are required of the Senior class for Psychology.

The aim is to present the fundamental principles of the science in a manner so simple that the student can understand them, and in so practical a light that he may see their application in methods.

The work consists of lectures on the nervous system, and special senses; the study of the intellect, the sensibilities, and the will, with their relation to each other; the analysis of the intellect into the faculties, observing the natural order of development; the special study of the intellectual faculties with their relation to the sensibilities and the will; instinct, reflex and habit.

HISTORY OF EDUCATION.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the spring term (14 weeks), are required of the Senior class for the History of Education.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the origin and development of the theories and methods which he has adopted, to awaken in him an interest in the personal history and character of the great educators of the past, and, in general, to give him more intelligence and a deeper interest in matters pertaining to his profession.

The work consists of a study of selections from Compayre's History of Pedagogy and lectures on the History of Education in America.

LOGIC.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one-half term (7 weeks), are required of the Post Graduate classes for Logic.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the exact use of terms, the classification of propositions, the rules of the syllogism and the different kinds of reasoning.

MORAL SCIENCE.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one term (14 weeks), are required of the Post Graduate classes for Moral Science.

The aim is to study some of the most prominent theories of different philosophers in regard to the Standard of Ethics, the Psychological basis of these theories, and to consider a rational system of practical Ethics. Instruction is given by lectures.

S. H. ALBRO, Instructor.

MODEL SCHOOL.

The Model School consists of pupils from six to sixteen years of age. It is divided into eleven grades, and embraces Primary, Intermediate, Grammar and Academic studies.

The design of the school is to give our students an opportunity to put into practice the theory and methods of instruction received in the course of professional work.

Twenty-one weeks or more of practice work is required of each Senior, who does his work under the constant direction of the Principal of this department. A single term of this practice will do more for a student-teacher than years of school-room work without advice or criticism.

Once each week the whole class meet with the Principal to hear criticisms on their work. Individual criticisms are made and suggestions offered as needed.

Each student-teacher is also appointed critic for a period of at least two weeks. A written report of his observations is then handed to the Principal for inspection, and whatever is particularly worthy of note, or subject to criticism, is afterward discussed before the class.

The methods, the language, power of securing and holding attention, discipline, manner, and teaching power, are noted and errors criticised.

Earnest effort is made to impress the fact that a poor disciplinarian cannot succeed in the school-room, and every principle relating to discipline is seriously and carefully discussed. During the year there are Senior class exhibitions of teaching, after which each student has an opportunity to make criticisms or ask advice.

METHODS.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the winter term (14 weeks), are required of the Senior class for Methods.

The aim is to discuss the best methods of teaching each of the branches taught in common schools, and to discover the psychological basis of the methods recommended. This course in Methods is designed to be the study of applied Psychology, and, at the same time, a preparation for the duties of the school room.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the whole year are required of the Junior class for Methods and School Economy.

The aim is to furnish students who may teach school before entering the Senior class, with such an empirical knowledge of Methods, and such practical hints in regard to the management of a school, as he is most in need of as a preparation for his work.

W. R. LONGSTREET, Instructor.

Department of Language.

READING.

This department aims to give the student a thorough knowledge of the dictionary and its many uses, including correct pronunciation, and the diacritical marking of words; to enable him to read understandingly, intelligently and with ease, the ordinary newspaper or magazine articles, and to teach the same by the best methods.

The books now in use are Harper's Fifth and Sixth Readers, and McGuffey's Fifth Revised.

The plan pursued is to drill upon special selections, requiring students to give them before the class. Students are also required to prepare articles of their own selection, and to present them before the class for criticism.

The powers of imagination and description are encouraged and cultivated by the reproduction in writing of articles read or heard, and by the description of mental pictures produced by reading.

Outline of work required:

ALPHABET—Vowels—Single, Diphthong. Consonants—Subvocal, Aspirate.

ORTHOEPY—Phonetic Analysis, Articulation, Syllabication, Accent, Pronunciation.

EXPRESSION AND MODULATION—Quality, Pitch, Force, Time, Inflection, Emphasis.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

All students are required to make a standing of 90 per cent in the orthography of common words.

This subject is taught by written lessons, combined with oral drill upon the sounds of letters and division of words into syllables.

Merrill's Word and Sentence Book is used in class work, and examinations are given upon the words found in this book, with other words in common use.

ELIZA J. BOYCE, Instructor.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one term, are required of the Junior class for English Grammar. Preparatory classes in Grammar are organized for students that are not prepared to enter upon the Junior course in this subject.

In both Junior and Preparatory classes, one recitation weekly is devoted to the study of letter-writing and to practical composition work generally, and at the close of the term, the student is required to hand in a satisfactory essay upon a subject which is assigned by the teacher.

Grammar may be defined as the science of language and the art of expression. It is the aim of this department that neither branch of the subject shall be neglected. All will agree that this study should be made practical, and that ability to speak and write correctly should be the end chiefly sought. Of scarcely less importance, however, is the study considered as a science, inasmuch as practical grammar, or language lessons, rests on the principles of grammar. Besides, as a means of mental discipline, few subjects are so valuable as technical grammar.

Especial attention is given to the following topics: declensions, principal parts of verbs, forms of conjugation, analysis, and the correct use of words in sentences.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

RHETORIC.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during one term, are required of the Senior class for Rhetoric.

The subject is taught with a view to its practical use. It is taken up in the following manner: First, Punctuation, at the end of which the student is supposed to be familiar with the important principles. Second, Diction, under which sentences illustrating the right use of words are considered together with synonyms. Third, the different kinds of sentences together with their appropriateness for the expression of different kinds of thought. Fourth, rules for the construction of sentences in regard to clearness, emphasis, unity, strength, harmony. Fifth, Figures. Sixth, some of the special properties of style. Seventh, Versification. Eighth, Poetry. After the principles involved in the various styles of composition, essays are required descriptive, narrative, expository, or argumentative, in character.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during one term, are required of the Senior class for English Literature.

This subject is taught with a view to giving the student a due appreciation of the best in the history of the language. In the limited period of fourteen weeks only the most important authors of the different epochs are considered, but around these, as far as possible, are grouped the minor writers. The subject is begun with the development of the language from the Anglo-Saxon. The life of an author is studied with the purpose of causing the student to know the man, and through him, his style. In order to become familiar with his style, extracts from different productions are read. Some attention is given to the political condition of the times, to the general condition of the country, and to the leading events of English history. ▲ proportionate amount of time is given to American authors. ANNA R. CAMERON, Instructor.

Department of Mathematics.

ARITHMETIC.

In Arithmetic three classes are formed, requiring one, two and three terms, respectively to complete the subject.

The most advanced class begins at Ratio, the second class at Percentage, and the third class at Fractions.

Special attention is given to some parts of the Arithmetic; for example, Fractions, Denominate Numbers, Measurements, Longitude and Time, Pure Percentage and its various application of Profit and Loss, Commission, Interest, Discount, and Taxes. On the other hand there are some Parts of the Arithmetic, which are seldom or never used after leaving school; as, Equation of Payments, Averaging Accounts, Savings Banks Accounts, Alligation, Annuities, Circulating Decimals, and Arbitration of Exchange, which are omitted altogether.

In recitation each topic under discussion is developed by a direct appeal to the reason without reference to any formal rule, while the rule is made use of only as a general deduction drawn from the solution of concrete examples.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

ALGEBRA.

The Junior course requires Elementary Algebra complete. All principles are demonstrated and thoroughly discussed. Special attention is given to the following subjects: Factoring, Newton's Binomial Theorem, Square and Cube Root, the Solution of Quadratic Equations, and Proportion.

HIGHER ALGEBRA.

Daily recitations for two terms of fourteen weeks each are required to complete this subject.

PLANE GEOMETRY.

Plane Geometry is a Senior study, and two terms of fourteen weeks each are required to complete it. The classes have a recitation period of forty-five minutes each, daily. Special attention is given to the demonstration of original propositions, and the solution of problems.

SOLID GEOMETRY.

Solid Geometry is a term study. Recitations occur daily. In Solid Geometry as in Plane, demonstrations and solutions of original propositions and problems are required.

PLANE TRIGONOMETRY AND SURVEYING.

Many practical problems involving trigonometrical functions are solved. Demonstrations of the Formulæ are required. The classes are given drill in the applications of Plane Trigonometry to Surveying. The transit and other necessary instruments are explained. Surveys are mapped and areas computed.

J. P. BREIDINGER, Instructor.

Department of Physical Science.

The course of study in Physical Science has for its aim:

- 1st. To lead the student to acquire the power and habit of accurate observation of the facts of nature, and the ability to draw from these facts legitimate inferences as to their causes and relations.
- 2d. To afford training in the expression, orally and written, of the student's conclusions in clear and forcible language.
- 3d. To relate everything, as far as possible, to the student's former and present experience.
- 4th. To make the work as elementary as may be, with a view to the student's use of it in teaching.

The subjects constituting the course are as follows:

PREPARATORY COURSE.

Physiology—One term.

Geography (Descriptive and Physical)—Two terms.

ELEMENTARY COURSE.

Physics—Two terms.

Botany—One term.

POST GRADUATE COURSE.

Physics—Two terms.
Chemistry—One term.
Geology—One term.
Astronomy—One term.
Zoology—One term.

The Junior class receives as a part of the course in methods a course of about twelve lessons in Natural History with special reference to classifying the objects with which they may be familiar in the animal, plant, and mineral kingdom.

GEOGRAPHY—DESCRIPTIVE AND PHYSICAL.

The particular aim in view in the study of Descriptive Geography, is to fix in the mind such knowledge as the student may already have, and as far as possible, relate such knowledge to his every-day experiences.

The topical method is used in teaching, and the following summary of topics may indicate the ground covered:

1. The form, size, and motions of the earth.
2. Directions, positions, and measurements.
3. Land-masses, continental and insular, with their groupings.
4. Oceanic and inland waters.
5. Political Divisions—comparison with United States.
6. Routes of commerce, communication, and travel.
7. A more thorough and complete study is made of the United States and Pennsylvania.

Physical Geography is restricted to the physical features of the earth, and the animals and plants which live upon its surface.

ELIZA J. BOYCE, Instructor.

PHYSICS.

The students of the Senior class study Physics during the fall and winter terms. The course consists of a series of experiments from Gage's Introduction to Physical Science, selected with reference to being those most easily comprehended and best illustrating the main principles and practical applications of the science.

These experiments are performed by the teachers, questions asked which lead the student to observe closely the conditions and result, and he is expected to draw his own inferences and state them in his own language. The student is expected to be familiar with the text, and questions and problems are given to test his knowledge. Each student then writes in his note book a description of the experiments, illustrating each by a drawing.

The work of Physics in the Past-Graduate course is along the same line but more extended, and the students perform a series of experiments.

BOTANY.

Botany is studied by the Junior class during the Spring term, about half of the time being devoted to the study of the text book and the remainder to the practical work of describing, analyzing, and preparing specimens for a herbarium. The student is instructed to plant a window garden with several kinds of seeds and study their mode of germination and growth, making in his note book a record of his observations.

Each student prepares a herbarium of at least twenty-five specimens of plants mounted on card board, together with mounted specimens of leaves and stems, illustrating all of the forms of simple and compound leaves and the different kinds of phyllotaxy. In this way he gets an accurate and adequate acquaintance with the plants of the region and a working knowledge of plants in general.

ZOOLOGY.

The Scientific class study Zoology during the fall term. The method is, as far as possible, from practical observation. Specimens illustrating the different classes of animals are dissected by the student, their structure examined, and descriptions and drawings made in note books.

The classification and characteristics of the animals are studied and lists made by the student of all the animals with which he is familiar, putting each in its proper place in the classification.

Morphology and the development from the egg are studied in the living specimens, together with the different tissues which go to make up the animal structure.

The doctrine of evolution and the criteria by which we judge an animal's rank are studied; the theory of instinct; the voluntary and the automatic movements; the organs with their functions, adaptations, correlations and analogies.

GEOLOGY.

The students of the Scientific course give one term to the study of Geology.

For this study the school is especially well equipped. Our cabinet contains one of the finest collections arranged to illustrate Lithology and Historical Geology. Besides the study of this the students make frequent excursions in the surrounding region to examine the structure and arrangement of the rocks and to collect specimens for their own cabinets. These they study, classify, label, and arrange in a space set aside for them, thereby acquiring the ability to recognize the kinds of rocks when they come under their observation, and forming a nucleus for a more extensive collection.

The effect of frost in aiding to disintegrate the rock, and of rivers in eroding their banks and depositing detritus and silt are well illustrated by the rocks and streams in this section, which are visited, examined, and discussed by the students.

CHEMISTRY.

One term is spent by students of the Scientific and Post-Graduate courses in the study of Chemistry, the first half being devoted to chemical theory and the more common elements with their properties, and symbols, and the equations representing their reactions. A sufficient number of selected experiments are performed by the teacher to illustrate the text. The latter half of the term is spent in individual work. The student performs a list of experiments recommended by the Committee of Ten for secondary schools, and writes a description of these, together with the equations representing the chemical reactions, in his note books.

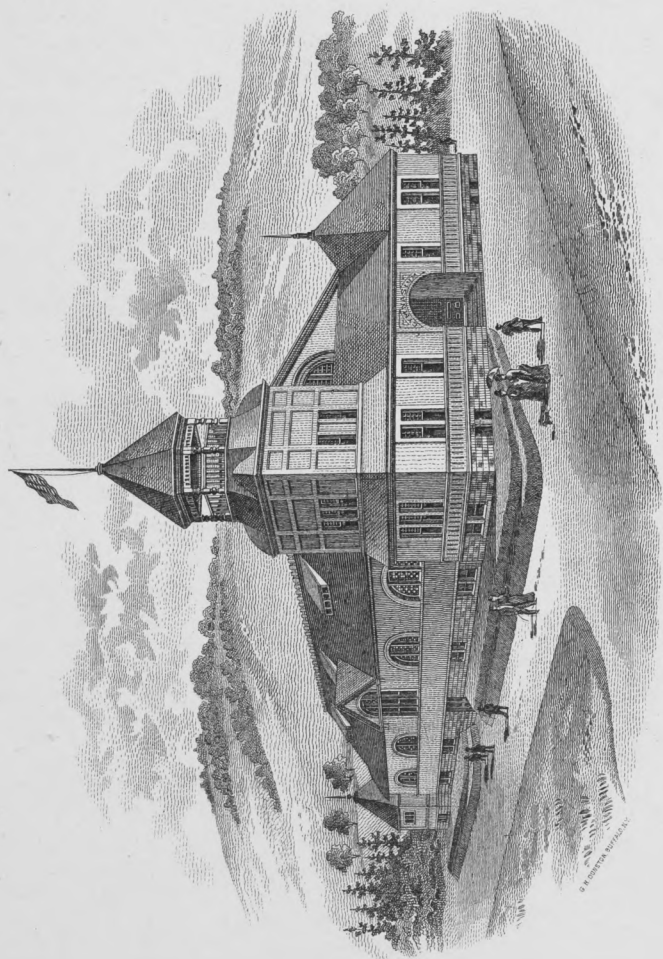

Frequent quizzes and examinations are held to test his ability and accuracy.

ASTRONOMY.

One term is spent by students of the Scientific and Post Graduate courses in the study of Astronomy.

The student is expected to acquire a correct notion as to the simpler methods and results of astronomical research. He acquaints himself with the facts as given in the text book and verifies them, as far as possible, observing the heavens, noting the positions and movements of the planets, and brighter stars, and tracing the principal constellations. The uses of the telescope and spectroscope are explained and illustrated.

GYMNASIUM.

The more important statistics are learned, the theories to account for the origin and structure of the universe, and the laws of planetary and cometary motions.

S. E. SPROLE, Instructor.

Department of History and Civil Government.

AMERICAN HISTORY, INCLUDING CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

Five recitations, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during a half-year (21 weeks), are required of the Junior class for American History and Civics.

The chief object before the teacher is to create in the student a desire for the study of history. The attempt is made through the narration of comparative accounts of different authors, debate, map-drawing, relics, short sketches, etc. Causes and effects are considered. The study of biography is made prominent. Some attention is given to the related events of English History. The subject is taken up in the following natural order: Explorations, colonizations, inter-colonial wars, the revolution, Presidential administrations, civil war, events of later history.

GENERAL HISTORY.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during a half-year (21 weeks), are required of the Scientific and Post Graduate classes for the study of General History.

This subject is taken up in much the same manner as is United States History. Under Ancient History a brief account of the following countries is studied: Egypt, Babylonia and Assyria, Phœnicia, Judea, Media and Persia, India, China, Greece, and Rome. In connection with the two latter some attention is given to the classic writers together with manners and customs.

The principal facts in Mediæval History are grouped around the rise of the Saracens, the Frankish Kingdom, the Modern Nations, Italy, the Crusades, Moors in Spain, etc.

Under Modern History the leading events of the sixteenth century are clustered around Charles the Fifth of Spain, the rise of the Dutch Republic, the Civil-Religious wars of France, the Tudors in England, etc.

Under the seventeenth century are considered the "Thirty Years' War," the history of France, England under the Stuarts; in the eighteenth century Peter the Great, and Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, the growth of Prussia under Frederick the Great, England under the House of Hanover, the French Revolution; in the nineteenth century the history of the following countries is taken up in order: France, England, Germany, Italy, Turkey, Greece, the Netherlands, Japan.

CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for a half-term (7 weeks), are required of the Preparatory class for Civics. The subject is taken up as a supplement to History of the United States.

The course attempts a thorough analysis of the Constitution of the United States, a comparison between the National government and the government of the states, and of foreign countries, and a discussion of the principles of government, and of the reason for the provisions of the constitution, and of current events relating to Civics.

ANNIE R. CAMERON, Instructor.

Department of Physiology and Hygiene, and Gymnastics.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

Five periods weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one term (14 weeks), are required of the Preparatory class for Physiology and Hygiene.

Whatever of Anatomy is combined with this work is illustrated with skeleton, manikin, diagrams, fresh parts of animals, etc. It will be the object in the entire work to describe the functions of the most important organs of the human body, and the means by which these organs may be kept in healthy condition. Chapters on digestion, circulation, respiration, and the functions of the skin, receive special attention.

The following is a resume of subjects to be elaborated by the students: 1. Bones; 2. Joints; 3. Muscles; 4. Digestion; 5. Blood and the organs for its circulation; 6. Respiration; 7. The Skin and its appendages; 8. The Nervous System; 9. Organs of the Special Senses. Attention will be paid to Aids and Emergencies.

Supplemental reading is desired.

Special Physiology is given Seniors in Physical Training Department.

COURSE IN GYMNASTICS.

The system taught is the Swedish Gymnastics. All students are required to take regular work unless excused on account of some organic disease. Gymnastic work is primarily for the weak, not for those already strong. The work is so adapted as to benefit all and injure none.

Gymnastics has its place in the school curriculum, not only for the improvement and maintenance of the health of the pupils, but also for its distinctive educational effects. The equal development of the cerebral hemispheres, the cultivation of concentrated attention, and of volition and courage, are possible to the teacher of educational gymnastics.

Each day's exercises will consist of introductions, arch flexions, heaving (hanging) movements, balance movements, shoulder blade movements, marching and running, abdominal exercises, lateral trunk movements, slow leg movements, jumping and vaulting, respiratory exercises.

In addition to the practical work in the gymnasium, twenty-one lectures on the theory and method of gymnastic work are required of all members of the Senior class.

All pupils will be obliged to wear clothing suitable for the gymnasium, divided skirt and loose blouse for the ladies, and a negligee shirt for the men, and rubber soled shoes for all.

A certificate will be required from every pupil from some physician stating whether he or she has any heart trouble or other organic disease.

ANNIE C. SKEELE, Instructor.

Department of the Arts.

PENMANSHIP.

The time required of the Preparatory class for Penmanship is not specified. A definite amount of work must be accomplished.

The classes observe the following:

1. A suitable and healthful position of body.
2. A proper method of pen-holding.
3. A movement regular, and as free as is consistent with good form.

4. A neat and business-like arrangement of the matter written.

Due attention is given to proportions, classifications, analysis of letters, etc., and special drill lessons are given in movements, and methods of teaching.

DRAWING.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for at least twenty-four weeks, are required of the Junior class for drawing.

The course includes outline and shaded drawings of type solids, and original groupings of same; drawings of objects and buildings to illustrate principles taught by solids; working drawings; kindergarten work, including clay modeling, and charts showing examples of paper cutting, folding, and weaving, stick laying, and harmony of color; rules of light and shade; perspective, its principles and practical applications; plans of buildings; groups of geometrical solids and vases in applied perspective, freehand; foliage from nature; methods of teaching drawing; technical terms; blackboard illustrations; designing.

BOOK-KEEPING.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one-half term (7 weeks), are required of the Preparatory class for Book-keeping.

The following is an outline of the work:

Definitions and illustrations.

Forms of accounts.

Debit and credit.

What an account shows.

Closing an account.

Special forms.

Partnership.

Checks, notes, and drafts.

Students are required to present for examination a set of books containing such exercises as the teacher shall designate.

BERTHA SUCESE STRAIT, Instructor.

VOCAL MUSIC.

The students are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the elementary principles of Vocal Music. This requires a thorough knowledge of all the Scales, Keys, Signatures, Clefs, different kinds of Measures, Notes, Rests, Etc. They must be able to write easy exercises in any key, and to transpose any one key into any other key. A knowledge of the Tonic Sol Fa system is also required. Seniors will be required to give instruction in this as in other subjects in the Model School.

H. E. COGSWELL, Instructor.

Military Drill.

A military company has been organized for the purpose of giving students who desire such instruction a course in Military Discipline and Tactics. Regular drills are held semi-weekly.

As such a drill is of great benefit to young men, and particularly to those who are preparing to teach, students are urged to become members of this organization. The uniform adopted is neat and well made, and makes a good school-room suit. These are furnished at manufacturers' prices.

The school has recently been furnished with breech-loading rifles from the State arsenal. Practice in target-shooting will be offered to all members of the company who desire to improve their marksmanship.

Prizes.

For excellence in scholarship, during the year 1895-96, eight prizes are offered, as follows:

1. A prize of $50, for the student who makes the highest standing in Greek. This prize is limited to students who shall begin Greek this year, and who shall be members of this school for not less than twenty-eight weeks of this year.

The room is supplied with cyclopædias and other books of reference, and all the best magazines published in the country, besides many of the best weekly and daily papers. The room is open at stated hours every day of the week.

The Reading Room is furnished and managed by the Reading Room Association, which comprises most of the faculty and students of the entire school.

The Association elects officers on the first Friday of each term. The office of President of the Association for the past year has been filled by J. S. Adams, Claud Coon and E. S. Garey.

Apparatus and Cabinet.

The science department is well supplied with the best modern apparatus which is constantly used by the classes in natural science. The cabinet contains a large collection of Geological and Biological specimens.

Literary Societies.

There are five literary societies, all in a flourishing condition:

The Athenæan, the Normal Literary, the Philalethean, the Agonian, and the Franklin.

The Athenæan and Normal Literary societies are composed of both ladies and gentlemen. They have finely furnished rooms and good libraries. The Philalethean society is composed of gentlemen, and is a chapter of the Philalethean Fraternity. The Agonian society is composed of ladies, and is a chapter of the Agonian Fraternity. The Franklin is composed of both ladies and gentlemen, and is under the immediate control of members of the faculty.

Lectures and Entertainments.

Lecture courses of a high order of excellence are maintained by the literary societies, and by the Y. M. C. A. Many scientific and popular lectures are given with the aid of the stereopticon. Frequent musical entertainments are given by the Music Department, and by the literary societies.

Religious Associations.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have organizations of the students which maintain weekly religious meetings.

Athletic Association.

An Athletic Association of the students has done a great deal to encourage and promote out-door sports. The base ball and foot ball teams of the school have made a fine record during the past year.

Location, Buildings and Grounds.

Mansfield is a fine rural village of 2,000 inhabitants, situated on the Tioga division of the Erie railroad, thirty-six miles from Elmira, N. Y. Its citizens are intelligent and enterprising. By special act of the legislature, no intoxicating liquors can be sold, nor billiard tables kept, within a radius of two miles of the Normal School. The students are therefore protected from many temptations, to which they would be exposed in many other localities. The sanitary condition of the village is excellent. The altitude is sufficient for the purest air, the sewage is complete, and pure water is brought from a mountain stream. The surrounding scenery, of hill, mountain and valley, is attractive. The Normal School buildings present a noble and imposing aspect. The school grounds have an area of ten acres. The lawns about the buildings are beautifully laid out and covered with a great variety of forest trees.

On the 12th of December, 1862, the Mansfield Classical Seminary was accepted by the State, and declared the State Normal

School of the Fifth District. The seminary building, accepted by the State, was the main portion of what is now called the SOUTH HALL.

This is a brick structure, one hundred fifty feet in length by fifty feet in width. In this building are the gentlemen's dormitories, the office of the Principal, chapel, six recitation rooms, and the text-book library. This building, formerly the old seminary, was enlarged and remodeled in 1889. One hundred fifty feet north, and the same distance east, of south hall, stands the

NORTH HALL.

This building is now in process of complete reconstruction from foundation to roof. The cut represents it as it will be, when finished, one of the finest school buildings in the country. The walls are of brick, the interior finishing of natural wood. All the material and workmanship are of the very best. The building is two hundred seventy feet long by one hundred feet wide, and five stories high. It contains an elegant dining room, finished in oak, large enough to seat five hundred, the kitchen bakery, etc., dormitories for the ladies, reception rooms, suits of rooms for the Art Department, and for the Normal School of Music. Two stories of an ell projecting from the northeast corner of the building, and completely removed from the other rooms, are set apart as an infirmary. They are completely furnished with every appliance for the sick. The central part of the building contains an elevator, Principal's office, reception room, office and class room for the Music Department, apartments for Steward and Matron in front, and dormitories and bathrooms in the rear. The dormitories on every floor of both buildings are supplied with bath-tubs and everything needed for health and comfort. All the buildings are heated by steam and supplied with fire escapes of the best construction. The cost of the north building when completed and finished, will not be less than $150,000. Midway between the north and the south buildings is

ALUMNI HALL.

This is a brick building, fifty-four by one hundred seventeen feet, three stories high. It contains the Model School rooms, recitation rooms, the society rooms, and a concert hall which occupies one entire story. This building was completed in 1886 at a cost of $25,000. In the rear of the south building stands the

GYMNASIUM.

This is a fine structure; it is a frame building, fifty by one hundred thirty feet. It contains a large drill hall, fifty by one hundred feet, and four spacious rooms adjoining, one for library and reading room, one for the military company, one for cabinet specimens, and one for ladies' dressing room. The drill hall is well furnished with apparatus. This building was erected in 1888 at a cost of $7,000.

Expenses.

Tuition in all branches, and board, including fuel, oil, room rent, and ordinary washing, $63.00 per term, or $189 per year. No extras. The first payment, $40.00, to be made on the first day of the term; the second payment, $23.00, to be made at the middle of the term.

The total expenses for the year are $189. When students avail themselves of State appropriations (see below), the expenses are reduced for the Junior year to $168, and for the Senior year to $118.

Tuition, without board, including all branches above, $14.00 per term, or $42 per year. The first payment, $7.00, to be made the first day of the term; the second payment, $7.00, to be made the middle of the term.

With a view of discouraging a too prevalent desire to make rapid advancement, which is always inconsistent with good scholarship, tuition will be reduced from $14.00 to $7.00 per term to students who are under seventeen years of age, and who take, during the year, only the studies of the Preparatory course; viz. Arithmetic as far as Ratio, Book-keeping, Civil Government,

Geography, English Grammar,—first term, or (b) class, History of the United States, Reading, Spelling, Writing, Vocal Music.

Deduction will be made to students absent from school two consecutive weeks or more on account of sickness or other satisfactory reasons. No deduction will be made to students entering within the first two weeks, or leaving within the last two weeks of a term. All bills must be settled with the Treasurer.

By an Act of the Legislature, the following appropriations are made by the State to Normal Students and Normal Graduates:

1. Each student over 17 years of age, who shall sign a paper declaring his intention to teach in the Common Schools of the State shall receive Fifty Cents a week.
2. Each student who, upon graduation, shall sign an agreement to teach in the Common Schools of the State two full school years, shall receive the sum of Fifty Dollars.
3. Any student to secure these benefits, must attend the school at least twelve consecutive weeks, and he must receive regular instruction in the science and art of teaching in a special class devoted to that object for the whole time such an allowance is drawn.

Tuition for Special Art Studies.

Private lessons in any of the branches, per term of fourteen weeks, one lesson a week	$12.00
Single private lessons	1.00
Class lessons of three hours in any of the branches except china painting in Royal Worcester style, with not less than five in the class, per term of fourteen weeks, one lesson a week	6.00
Single class lessons	50

Miscellaneous.

Gentlemen's rooms are furnished with heat, light, dressing case, mirror, chairs, tables, stands, pails, bedsteads, mattresses, pillows and one comfortable.

Ladies' rooms are furnished with heat, carpet, couch, or two rockers, chairs, tables, and bedroom set complete, pillows, and one comfortable. Mirror on dressing case.

Students furnish lamps, mirrors, wash-bowls and pitchers, napkins, towels, pillow-slips, sheets and one comfortable. The last five articles enumerated, together with all articles of clothing, should be distinctly marked with full name.

Students have the privilege of renting text-books at a nominal rate.

For two days at the opening and two days at the close of each term, students' baggage is carried to and from the railway station free of charge.

How to Reach Mansfield.

Mansfield is thirty-six miles from Elmira via the Erie railroad, twenty-seven miles from Corning via Fall Brook and Erie railroads; twenty-three miles from Wellsboro via Fall Brook railroad from Wellsboro to Lawrenceville and thence via Erie railroad, or twelve miles from Wellsboro by stage; sixteen miles from Troy, on the Northern Central railroad, by stage; and ten miles from Blossburg via Erie railroad.

Students coming via Northern Central railroad may take stage at Roaring Branch for Blossburg, thence to Mansfield by railroad, or take stage at Troy direct to Mansfield, or keep the railroad via Elmira. Passengers from the East, by the Erie, change cars at Elmira; by the Lehigh Valley, change at Waverly, thence to Elmira by the Erie; by the D., L. & W., change at Lawrenceville, thence by the Erie to Mansfield. Students coming from the West on the Erie or D., L. & W. railroads, change cars at Corning. Students coming from the West and South by the Fall Brook railroad, change at Lawrenceville.

All baggage should be distinctly marked with the name of the owner, and "STATE NORMAL SCHOOL," to insure its being brought to the Normal buildings. Whenever baggage is to be taken to the station, it should be marked with the name and destination of the owner.

Normal School of Music.

HAMLIN E. COGSWELL, MUSICAL DIRECTOR,

With a Full Corps of Instructors.

This school, which constitutes the music department of the State Normal School, aims at the development and cultivation of musical talent in its broadest sense. It is located in the new North Hall, and is amply provided with everything that is needed in a first-class Conservatory, one entire floor of this large building being used by this department.

Course of Study.

The course of study is similar to that of the leading conservatories of this country and Europe, and is such as will enable students to secure the best results in as short a time as possible. It affords not in music alone, but also in other branches of study, an excellent opportunity for students to secure such intellectual development as will form a substantial basis for future attainments.

Singing.

The aim is to instruct the student in that which will enable him or her to sing in a natural, easy manner, with perfect control of breath, pure tones, clear and distinct enunciation, and with artistic phrasing. Each vocal student will be required to do a certain amount of sight singing until he is able to read at sight any ordinary song. The same may be said of instrumental music as of singing. No one can become a good singer without being able to carry a part independent of another, and in a school of this kind every opportunity is afforded for singing duets, trios, quartets, etc., thus fitting the student for a position in choir or upon the concert stage.

Piano.

This department will be conducted after the manner of the Paris Conservatory. The course of study comprises technical exercises such as are necessary to give perfect control of the muscles of the fingers, hand and arm; studies by the best known writers which are designed to further develop the execution, and to unite technical work with the higher forms of musical expression. With these are given many of the compositions of the best writers of the past and present. Regular examinations will be held in this department, and no one will be allowed to enter a higher grade until he has passed a satisfactory examination in the preceding one. The Virgil Practice Clavier is systematically used with most excellent results.

Violin.

There is no instrument more popular and none so well adapted to every shade of expression as the violin. The study of the violin requires exercises in position, manner of holding violin and bow, tuning, etc., exercises for left hand—scales, arpeggios, trills, embellishments; bowing exercises—legato, detached bowing, martellato, bounding bow, etc., etudes, harmonics, solos, duets, and ensemble playing. Also an opportunity is afforded for playing in orchestra. No where can be found better advantages for the study of this and other stringed instruments than at the Normal School of Music.

Organ.

Two pipe organs in the place are used for students who desire to study the same. This will require a special course, including registration, manual and pedal exercises, exercises in playing church music, voluntaries, accompaniments, etc., and a general knowledge of organ music. There is also an opportunity for pedal practice on the pedal piano attachment, recently introduced into this school, which greatly facilitates the progress of the student.

Flute, Cornet, Clarinet, Etc.

This school affords superior advantages in the study of all wind instruments. Music, such as duets for two cornets, two clarinets, quartets for same, etc., is kept on hand for the use of students for practice, free of cost. This, with the opportunity of playing in a fine band and orchestra, makes the school especially desirable to the student.

Harmony.

Harmony is the grammar of music, and is as essential to the music student as is the English grammar to the student of English literature. Every graduate of this school, whether vocal or instrumental, must pass a satisfactory examination in this important branch of study, which includes elementary and advance harmony, single and double counterpoint, canon, fugue, and instrumentation. Students will be required to practice reading from sound. All harmony work will be in classes.

Certificates and Diplomas.

Certificates will be granted to students who have been in attendance regularly for one year, and who have made a satisfactory showing of a general knowledge of music and of one chief study, such as voice, piano, violin. Diplomas for graduation will be granted to those passing a satisfactory examination in any special branch, together with harmony, theory of music, history of music, sight, reading, and a fairly good general education.

Positions for Graduates.

Every effort will be made to secure positions for graduates. While we can not guarantee positions, yet there is a growing demand for good teachers and many of our graduates are now holding responsible positions, while others have all they can do teaching.

Free Privileges.

All students desiring certificates or diplomas are required to enter the classes in History of Music, Theory, Harmony, Counterpoint, and Sight-reading, and must pass a satisfactory examination in all these branches. These are all free except Harmony and Counterpoint.

Musical History

Will be taught in classes, together with biographies of great musicians, illustrations of their work, etc., thus enabling the student to become familiar with the growth and development of music from its earliest history until the present time.

Lectures and Concerts.

During the year students have the privilege of attending many fine lectures, concerts and recitals, by eminent artists, together with those given by the Faculty and advanced students. These are of the greatest possible benefit to all.

Analysis.

The only true method of study is by analysis. This includes melodic and harmonic construction, taking to pieces and putting together all musical forms, thus enabling the student better to understand the works of the great composers. These lessons will be accompanied by illustrations by both teachers and advanced pupils.

Theory of Music.

This includes a thorough knowledge of the elements of music, the principles of acoustics, perception of sound, a knowledge of instruments of all kinds, also of all kinds of composition from the dance to the symphony, embellishments, combination, signs, etc.

Frequent lectures and recitals will be given by the teachers, illustrating the different works of the best composers, thus helping students to that which they would not otherwise be able to acquire. Much is learned by imitation and illustration, and much inspiration is gathered from these recitals and concerts.

Chorus and Sight Singing.

All students, whether vocal or instrumental, will be required to enter these classes. A knowledge of vocal music is essential to every musician. The true aim of every player should be to acquire a style of playing which approaches the human voice as nearly as possible. Vocal students will have the advantage of singing in one of the church choirs every week.

Music in Public Schools.

To be able to teach others well is the best evidence of a thorough knowledge of the subject. A special class will be formed at the beginning of the spring term for those who desire to take this part of the work.

Reading Room.

A most useful feature of this school is the free access to the reading room of the Music Department, where may be found many musical publications, books, etc., of great benefit to the student.

Literary Societies.

There are five excellent literary societies connected with the State Normal School. They meet every week, and music students are frequently called upon to assist in making up programs, thus affording frequent opportunities for playing or singing in public.

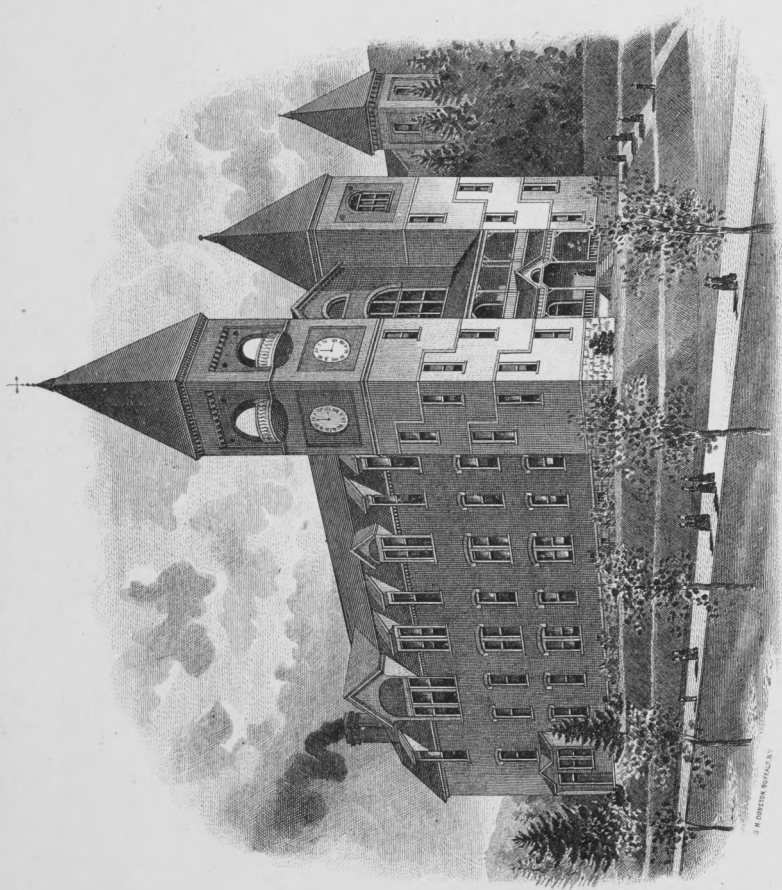

Normal Teachers' Classes.

During the past year has been inaugurated what is termed the Normal teachers' classes, in which is afforded the opportunity for advanced students to teach under the direction of one of the members of the Faculty. This is the most satisfactory of all the work done in the school as it enables the Faculty to know and correct any mistakes on the part of those giving instruction, and prepares them for good work after they go out from the school.

Other Studies.

Students are advised to take some few other studies aside from music. Such as may desire to do so can have the privilege of entering any class in the State Normal School upon the payment of a very small tuition. No student will be allowed to graduate in music without a fair knowledge of other branches.

Regulations.

All music students will be required to observe the regulations of the school; such as are calculated to be for the best interests of all.

Instruction.

All instruction in voice, piano, violin, etc., will be in class or individual private lessons, according to the wish of the student. We, however, strongly recommend students to take class lessons. All lesson periods are forty-five minutes. Only two students are assigned to the same period, and while each receives individual instruction one-half the time, at the same time he has the benefit of the instruction given the other, which is often of more value to the listener than to the one doing the work. Besides, there is much a teacher has to say in regard to the subject that will call forth thought, and many times a student may ask questions that another had not thought of. In this way much useful information is acquired. This plan is generally followed in all of the leading conservatories with the very best results.
